

ELL Rubric for Newspaper Article

Organization:

5. Article has an introduction, a conclusion and detailed ideas.
3. Article has an introduction or conclusion and some detailed ideas.
1. Has no introduction or conclusion and few details.

Ideas:

5. Ideas are mostly clear and accurate.
3. Some ideas are not clear or accurate.
1. Ideas are unclear and inaccurate.

Conventions:

5. Spelling, capitalization, and punctuation are mostly correct.
3. Spelling, capitalization, and punctuation errors do not interfere much with meaning.
1. Errors in spelling, capitalization and punctuation make it impossible to understand the article.

Content:

5. Includes 3 or more modifications and/or benefits.
3. Includes 2 or more modifications and/or benefits.
1. Includes 1 or more modifications and/or benefits.