Westward Ho: The Difficulties of Emigrants Moving West

Overview

After the Louisiana Purchase in 1803 and Lewis and Clark's Expedition to explore this unknown land in 1804 through 1806, large numbers of people moved west to take advantage of new opportunities and rich, cheap farmland. These emigrants experienced tremendous difficulties along the route to Oregon.

Purpose

After reading the letters and diaries written by a fictional family who was moving west along the Oregon Trail, the students will map the journey and understand the causes and effects of some of the difficulties experienced by this family.

Key Vocabulary

- cause – something that produces an action or result
- effect – something brought about by a cause
- exaggerated – to make bigger than the truth
- agriculture – producing farm crops and livestock
- toll – charge money to use a road or other service
- fiddlers – people who play the violin
- fare – money paid for a trip

Materials

- A set of National Geographic Society's Reading Expeditions' books Voices from America's Past: Our Journey West. A "set" is composed of six books.
- Oregon Trail Map
- Cause and Effect Chart and Answer Key (one version adapted for diverse learners)
- Supplemental Vocabulary List
- Blue and red colored pencils
- Friendly Letter Format
- Vocabulary Cards

Objectives

The student will be able to:

- read a secondary source on a geographical and historical event.
- locate sections of a route on a map.
- identify cause and effect of a migration.
- write a friendly letter.

Prerequisite Skills: Students have previously practiced identifying cause and effect and have written a friendly letter.

1 Prerequisite Skills: Students know how to write a friendly letter.

SESSION ONE

Before the session, introduce the key vocabulary by projecting the vocabulary cards. Have the students individually illustrate and write the definitions in their journals or on paper. Have the students share their work in groups and then share as a class.

(Preparation: Linking to background; Grouping: Small groups, Whole class)

1. Divide the students into six groups. Give each group a copy of Voices from America's Past: Our Journey West.
2. Discuss the vocabulary words on page 40 of the book and distribute the Supplemental Vocabulary List that accompanies this lesson. Have ELL students highlight key words and definitions on the Supplemental Vocabulary List. (Integrating Processes: Reading, Writing)
3. Distribute one Oregon Trail map to each group. https://geoalliance.asu.edu/sites/default/files/maps/ORTRAIL.pdf
4. Read the Introduction on page 4 and discuss the map on page 5. Instruct students to trace the route of the journey from Sidney, New York to Oregon City in blue. Model this on a projected map. (Scaffolding: Modeling, Guided practice)
5. As the book is read, discuss some difficulties the emigrants might have had and the causes and the effects of the difficulties. Have volunteers dramatize the difficulties and then the effects. Record the cause and effects discussed on the board. (Application: Hands on, Meaningful; Grouping: Small groups)

SESSION TWO

Prior to the session, decide which Cause and Effect worksheets should be given to students based on their ability.

1. Assign a chapter from Voices from America’s Past: Our Journey West to each group. Only assign Chapters 1 through 6. Do not assign Chapter 7.
2. Distribute the Cause and Effect worksheets to the appropriate group based on your assessment of the class’s or student’s abilities. Model how each group should complete the Difficulty/Cause/Effect.
Westward Ho: The Difficulties of Emigrants Moving West

(Scaffolding: Independent practice, Modeling; Application: Promotes engagement)

3. Instruct students to use the map of the United States where they drew the complete route of the emigrants in blue, they should now draw the section of the route that their chapter described in red (next to the blue).

SESSION THREE

1. Give the class these instructions: "You are a 10 year old child of an emigrant family traveling west from Sidney, New York to Oregon City. Write a letter to a friend back in Sidney describing three of the difficulties that you and your family experienced on the trip and what caused these difficulties. Explain to your friend what you would do differently on your next trip west in order to make your trip more successful." (Assessment: Written, Individual)

2. Instruct the students to use at least five vocabulary words from the book in their letter. Before they begin model an example on the board/overhead. (Scaffolding: Modeling)

Assessment

ELA

Use the 6 Traits Writing Rubric to grade the letter. Concentrate on the traits of Sentence Fluency and Conventions. Mastery will be considered a score of 4 or higher. Check to see if at least five vocabulary words are used from the combined vocabulary lists and that those words are used correctly. The correct friendly letter format must also be used.

Geography

Each group's map should be checked for accuracy of the routes to assess geography standards. Mastery will be considered a score of 90% or higher.

Geography and ELA

The Difficulty/Cause/Effect worksheet can be graded for accuracy to assess reading and geography standards. Each group should have at least four difficulties and their causes and effects on their chart to be considered mastery.

Extensions

Students could research alternate routes and compare difficulties on both routes.

Students could compare roads and railroad routes used today and see if any of these follow the same route as the Oregon Trail.

Students could research the towns and cities that grew up along this route.

Students could research how many miles were traveled in an average day along the Oregon Trail.
