

line of best fit: a precise line drawn over the most data points possible scatter plot: a graph that shows the relationship between two sets of data line graph: a graph that shows change over time outlier: a data point on a graph or in a set that is much bigger or much smaller than the next closest data point population: all the people living in a particular place

All images from Microsoft Word Commons