Fred Harvey Story

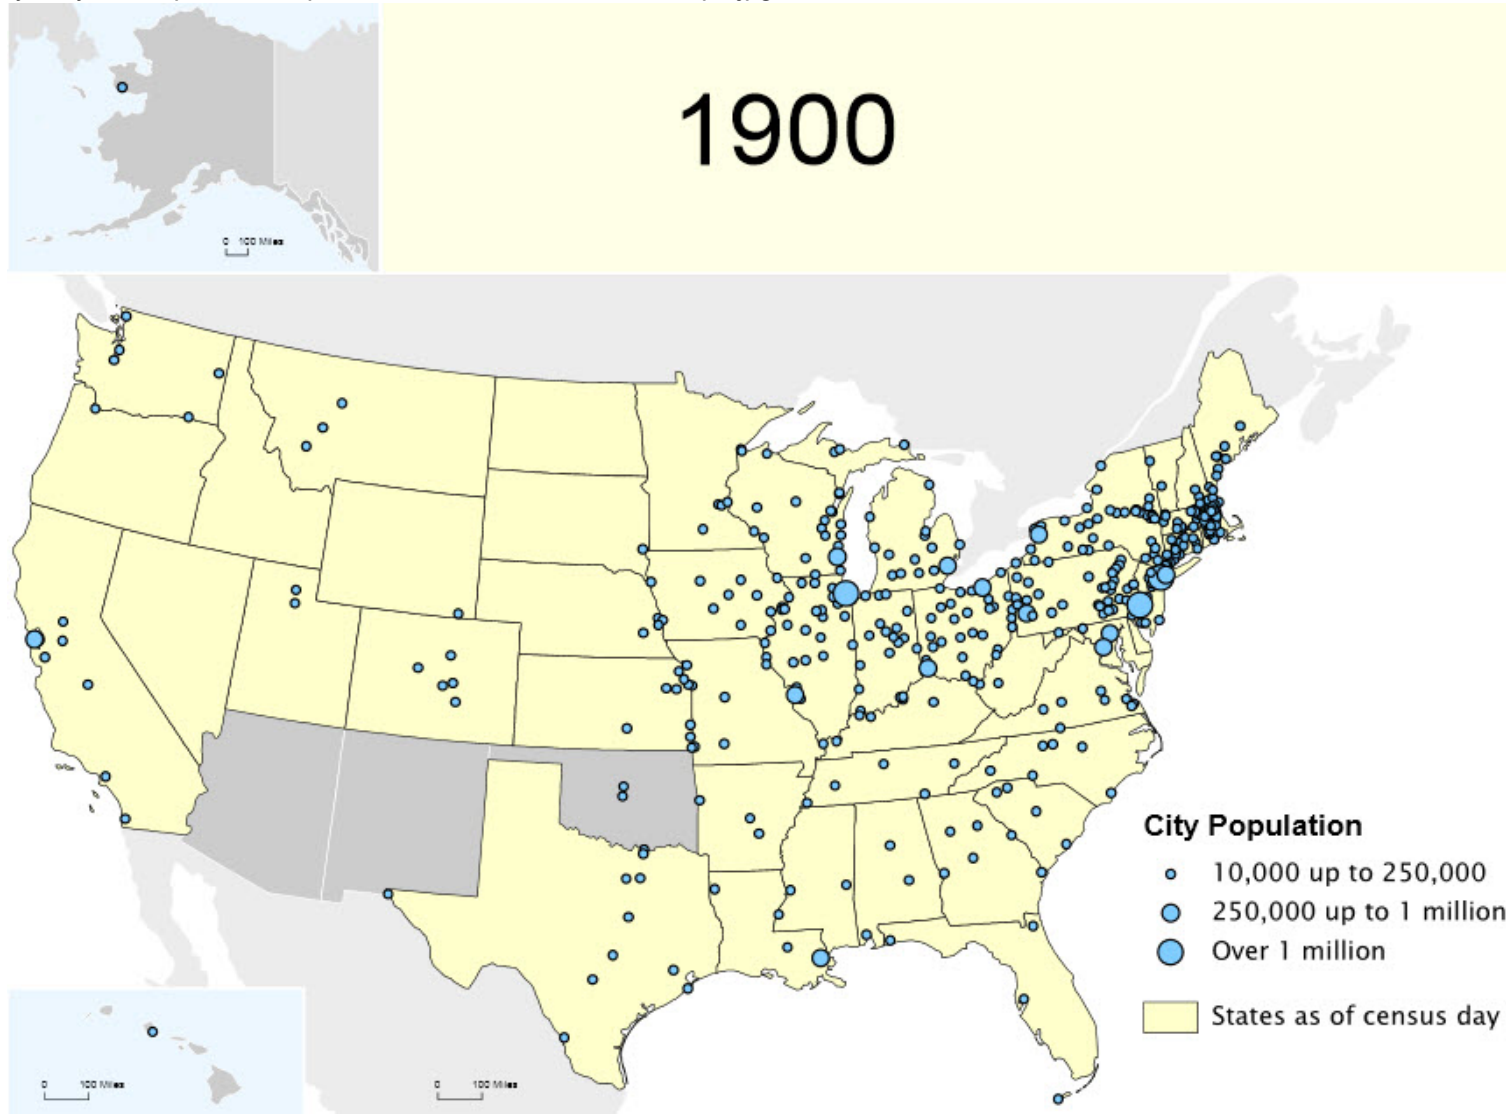

<https://www.thesantafevip.com/thecity/fred-harvey-weekend/>

When Fred Harvey was young man he traveled on a train heading west. He was very disappointed that the food served at the train stations did not taste good. Sometimes it smelled bad, the service was slow, and many passengers missed their next train waiting for their food or left without eating. Sleeping on the train or at nearby inns was not always a clean place or comfortable.

Fred Harvey felt that more people would want to travel and see all the wonders of the West if there was good food, friendly service, and clean places to eat and sleep.

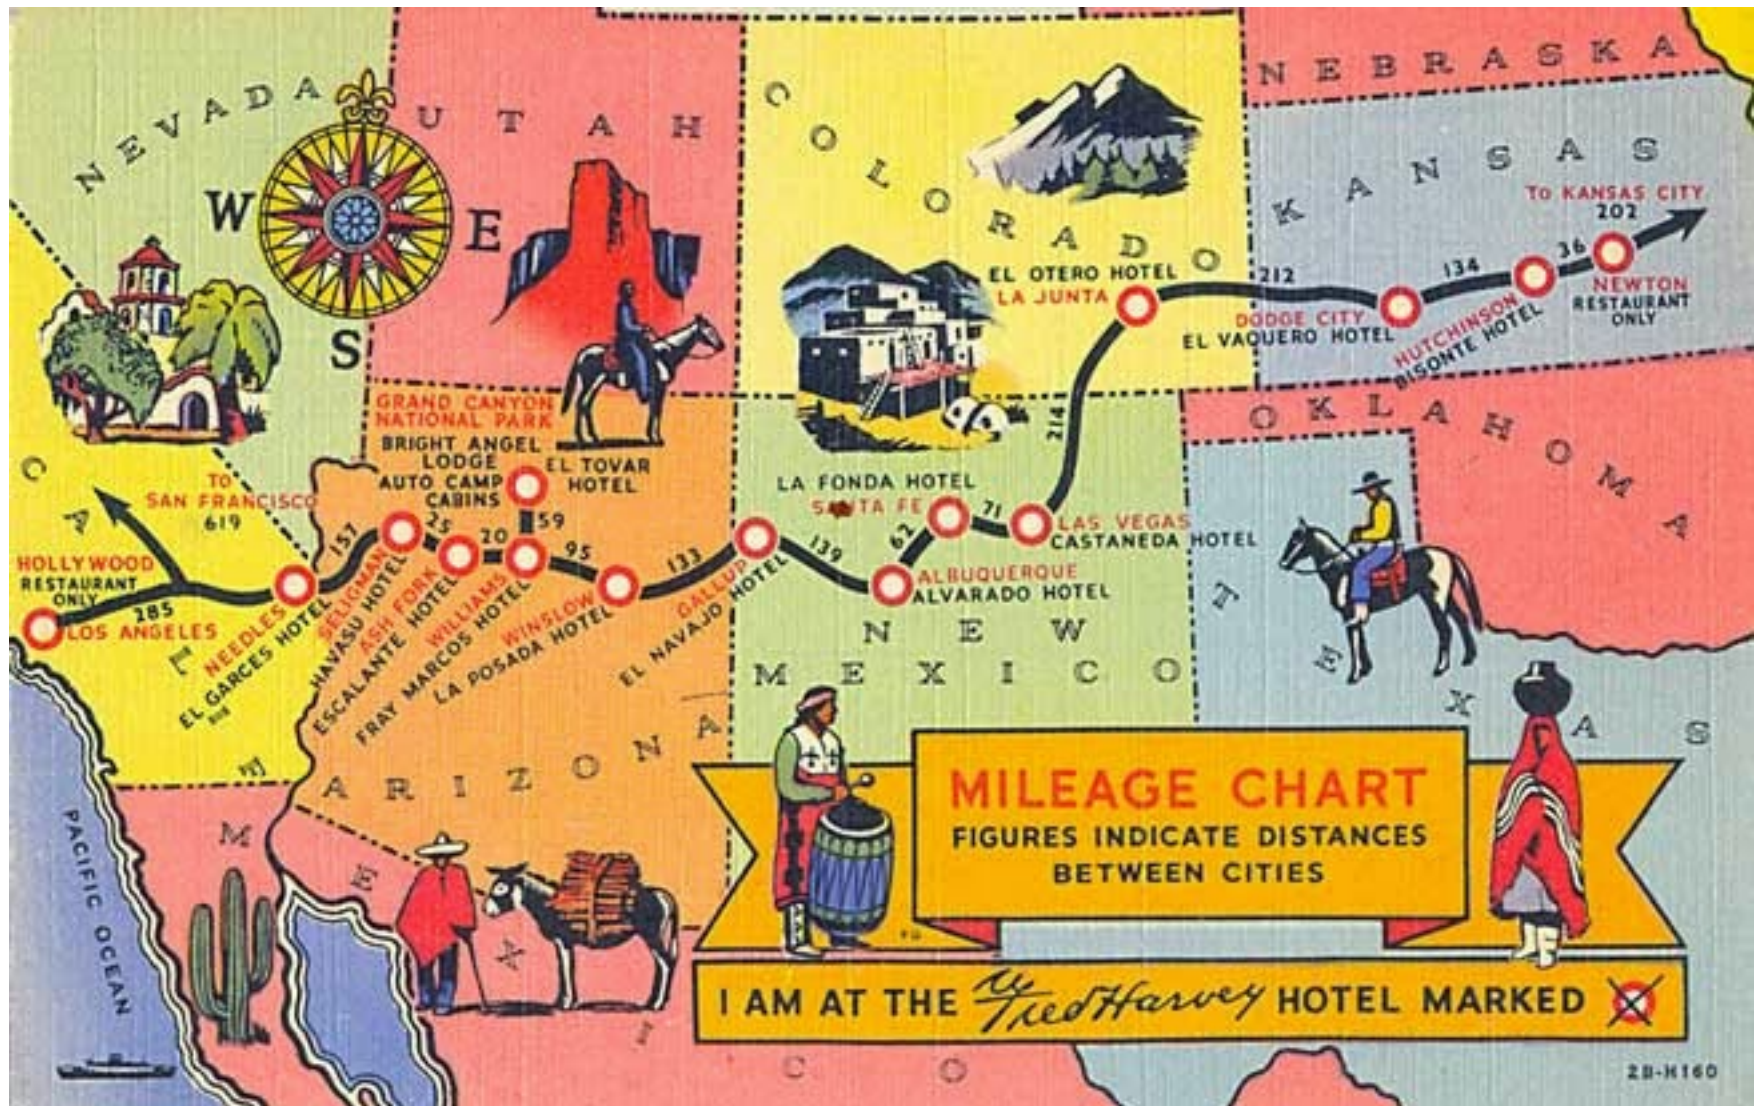

Mr. Harvey hired single women, who were looking for jobs and opportunity to experience life out West. These women were trained the “Harvey Way” to deliver fast, friendly service. One example of efficient service was the “Cup Code.” Fred Harvey hired the best cooks and he made sure his businesses were clean and nicely decorated.
